

6516205411.txt

Just because XM radio is offering a little bit of competition to the local broadcasters is no reason to go editing and barring XM from the local markets. Remember that competition is good and makes businesses thrive for the consumer, instead of making the consumer bow to the business. In addition, remember that we pay for a subscription to XM and that this is completely voluntary. Recall that this is the same thing that happened in the early to mid 90's with Satellite TV stations. Now local cable companies are still having no problem selling there wares and neither is satellite. This is the same situation, and with history in mind, I think it's clear to realize that HR 4026 is simply a way to limit free speech and free enterprise.

Thank you.